JOBS FOR THE FUTURE

ABOUT JFF

JFF identifies, develops, and promotes education and workforce strategies that expand opportunity for youth and adults who are struggling to advance in America today. In more than 200 communities across 43 states, JFF improves the pathways leading from high school to college to family-sustaining careers.

ABOUT CREDENTIALS THAT WORK

Credentials that Work (CTW) incorporates innovations in real-time labor market data in guiding institutions to better align education and training investments, program and course development with the needs of regional economies.

Real-time data can help improve the understanding of hiring trends, employer demand, including certifications and skill requirements by drawing on current information and consistent signals from the labor market.

Real Time Labor Market Information

What is it?

Real time LMI is labor market intelligence derived from the analysis of job postings and resumes placed into public and private labor exchanges. It is real time because it can be based on data pulled from the Internet on a daily basis. It is labor market intelligence because it can provide indications of supply and demand trends, emerging occupations, current and emerging skill requirements, and market-based demand for education and certifications.
